5. Documentation.

We will issue policy information in a timely manner. This will normally be within 30 days of the contract of insurance being concluded for commercial products or 7 days for consumers for retail products. Policy documentation will contain the full terms and conditions and exclusions, confirm the basis of cover and give details of the insurer(s). Please ensure you read these in full to ensure cover meets with your requirements and you understand what to do in the event of a claim.

We will retain documents for a minimum of 2 years, in accordance with our retention of documents policy. For some types of insurance cover it is possible that the claim may be made under a policy long after its expiry date and it is a requirement that we retain such documents for an appropriate period so that they can be accessed.

6. Annual Cover - Notice of Expiry

Unless otherwise agreed, we shall issue you with a notice of expiry for those insurance policies with an annual expiry date, at least 21 days prior to the expiry of your insurance policy. We shall send the appropriate information, under the recommended guidelines, to enable you to purchase further cover, either by telephoning our dedicated sales team or via the online sales platforms.

To ensure you have continuous cover, this must be completed before or on the expiry of your previous policy. If we are unable to offer the same product as previously held an alternative will be offered.

7. Security (your insurer)

We monitor the financial soundness of insurers that we use. We will do this by relying on information provided by rating agencies and other information in the public domain. If you have particular concerns or requirements regarding the security that we use, we will be happy to discuss your needs with you. We do not guarantee the solvency of any insurer we place business with. You may not be able to collect claims from an insurer that becomes insolvent.

8. Claims

Your insurance policy includes a claims procedure which tells you what steps you should take if you wish to make a claim.

You will be responsible for notifying, as soon as possible, a claim or circumstance which may give rise to a claim. Please ensure that you provide full information in accordance with the procedures set out in the insurance policy. This may include providing the information within a particular timeframe. Failure to do so may affect the validity of the claim. You will be provided with assistance in submitting a claim and seeking reimbursement. However, in the event that the insurer becomes insolvent or delays making settlement, we do not accept liability for any unpaid amounts

9. Premium

Your premium must be paid at the time of purchase of your insurance policy. Failure to pay your premium can result in the automatic termination of your insurance contract.

10. Our Remuneration (what we are paid for the services we provide)

Our remuneration may be as commission, brokerage or fees. When we sell you a policy the insurer pays us a percentage commission from the total premium. If the type of policy we sell reaches specific profit targets the insurer also pays us an additional bonus. In addition, certain types of policies also carry a fulfilment fee, which will be shown as an admin fee on your documents.

11. Cancellation Clause

Your insurance contract may include a cancellation clause. In the event that you fail to pay your premium by the due date the insurance may be cancelled forthwith or by insurers giving notice of the cancellation. In the event of cancellation of the insurance contract, insurers may or may not return a pro rata premium. Please refer to your insurance policy document for details

In the event that the insurance is cancelled after inception, our fees or brokerage will not be refundable

12. Client Money

Client money is money of any currency that we receive and hold in the course of carrying on insurance mediation on behalf of our clients (including you) or which we treat as client money in accordance with FCA rules. We keep client money separate from our own money in a non-statutory trust account.

13. Non Statutory Trust Accounts

We hold client money subject to a non-statutory trust account. This means that we are entitled to and may use client money held on behalf of one client to pay another client's premium before the premium is received from that other client, and to pay premium refunds to another client before we receive payment from the insurer. However, we are not entitled to use client money to pay commissions before we receive the relevant premium from the client.

The aim of the trust is to protect the client in the event of the failure of the firm, or the failure of the bank or a third party at which the money may be held. In such circumstances, the firm's general creditors should not be able to make claims on client money as it will not form part of the firm's property.

The fact that we will hold money on trust gives rise to fiduciary duties, which will be owed to you until the client money reaches the insurer or product provider.

14. Interest on Client Money

Any interest earned on client money held by us and any investment returns, on any segregated designated investments, will be retained by us for our own use.

15. Segregation of Designated Investments

We keep client money separate from our own money. We may do this by paying it into a client bank account. However, we may also do this by arranging to hold separately permitted designated investments with the value at least equivalent to the money that would otherwise have been paid into a client bank account. If we do this we will be responsible for meeting any shortfall in our client money resource which is attributable to falls in the market value of a segregated investment.

16. Payment to third parties

We may transfer client money to another person, such as another broker, for the purpose of effecting a transaction on your behalf through that person. This may include brokers outside the UK. The legal and regulatory regime applying to a broker outside the UK may be different from that of the UK and, in the event of a failure of the broker, this money may be treated in a different manner from that which would apply if the money were held by a broker in the UK. You may notify us if you do not wish your money to be passed to a person in a particular jurisdiction.

17. Compliance

Regulation

We comply with all regulatory requirements applicable made under the Financial Services and Markets Act (FSMA), or of the regulations of the Intermediary's country of domicile, include treating clients fairly, having appropriate systems in place which reflect the nature, scale and complexity of its business and conducting its business with due skill, care and diligence.
